

Teach civics and citizenship: Constitution masterclass

In this exciting collaboration between the Parliamentary Education Office, the National Archives of Australia and the High Court of Australia, teachers will explore the significance of Australia's Constitution, the High Court's role in interpreting it and how the National Archives of Australia preserve it and other important documents. Teachers will receive a range of curriculum-aligned interactive and immersive teaching resources and strategies.

During this session you will:

- enhance your knowledge and understanding of the Australian Constitution
- examine key High Court cases that have influenced our understanding of the Constitution
- experience fun and engaging classroom activities that explore the Constitution
- come away with a collection of curriculum-aligned interactive and immersive teaching resources and strategies

This workshop is aligned to the Australian Curriculum and is suitable for primary and secondary teachers.

With more than 30 years' experience in educating students and teachers about the Australian Parliament, we look forward to introducing you to the exciting opportunities of civics and citizenship education in your classroom.
